LOS ANGELES ZOO & BOTANICAL GARDENS BEHIND-THE-SCENES TOUR

Saturday, July 13, 2019

When you think of “zoo,” animals come to mind, but zoological gardens are also parks that employ multiple landscape strategies – some for people, some for animals, and some for... plants!

During this special docent-guided tour at the L.A. Zoo, visitors can see rare and endangered plant specimens, Bonnie’s Garden full of familiar plants used in novel ways to enrich the lives of the zoo animals, the recently installed bird gardens, and other unexpected botanical features. The L.A. Zoo is also a designated plant rescue center that receives confiscated plants from wildlife agencies. SCHS member Sandy Masuo facilitated the arrangements for this trip and will also be on hand to provide backstories for some of the more interesting plants.

BONUS FEATURE: After the botanical tour, registered participants can continue exploring the grounds on their own, as zoo admission for the day is included with each reservation!

By special arrangement, the SCHS is able to offer this FREE tour as a perk of membership to a total of 30 members on a “first come - first served” basis.

We regret that we are unable to open this event to non-members.
